NORMAN

Welcome back to the Big Picture. For tonight's hot topic section, we'll be talking about the just announced Gay Pride Parade scheduled to go right up against New York's famous St. Patrick's Day Parade. Obviously a lot of people are justifiably upset. Joining us from Hollywood- (laughs) where else, right, folks? Tonight, the President of the Gay and Lesbian Anti-Defamation League, otherwise known as women fond of plaid- (laughs at his own joke) will do her best to defend their position. Ms. Allison Van Heusen. Thanks for coming on tonight.

ALLISON VAN HEUSEN

Thanks for having me, Norman.

NORMAN

And it is coming on- not out? Right? You are out of the closet, correct?

ALLISON VAN HEUSEN

I was never in a closet, Norman. I'm was born a lesbian.

NORMAN

Okay. Let me start. I want to give you guys and gals some credit. You've had a great year. Glee is the number one show on television. Ricky Martin finally came out. Neal Patrick Harris had twins--

ALLISON VAN HEUSEN

We're not just about entertainment, Norman.

NORMAN

Hey. I got no problem with that. You people do entertainment stuff really well. And in fact I don't even have a problem with your parade.
